OUR NETWORK

Connecting Students, Alumni and Educators Worldwide

In 2013, the IFC and certain affiliated investors collectively invested $200 million in Laureate

Every institution within Laureate's network defines its identity, programs and approach according to the needs of its students, and community. As the world's largest network of private post-secondary institutions, we are connecting administrators, educators, alumni and students around the world. Relationships among our universities are enhanced through shared curricula and degree programs, student and faculty exchanges, sharing of academic best practices, scholarships and an active online network. We are focused on preparing our students to meet the real-world needs of employers in an increasingly interconnected global society.

OUR OUTCOMES

We Position Our Students for Success

Laureate Institutions offer high-quality undergraduate, graduate and specialized programs in a wide range of disciplines. Laureate designs its programs to prepare students to contribute productively in their chosen professions upon employment, and partners with leading organizations to conduct employer surveys and ongoing research to develop curriculum that helps its graduates acquire skills and knowledge sought by employers.

In 2014, Laureate commissioned a study by Millward Brown of graduates at Laureate institutions representing over 60% of total Laureate enrollments. Graduates at 12 of Laureate's 13 surveyed international institutions achieved, on average, equal or higher employment rates within 12 months of graduation as compared to graduates of other institutions in the same markets.

In 2014 and 2016, Laureate partnered with the IFC/World Bank Group on two separate studies to analyze the outcomes of graduates of Laureate institutions versus graduates of all other universities in respective countries. Results of the two studies, the first conducted on Laureate institutions in Mexico in 2014 and the second at Universidad Peruana de Ciencias Aplicadas ("UPC") and Cibertec in Peru in 2016, were presented by IFC senior education specialist Mohammed Khan during the Laureate Summits on Youth & Productivity.
